The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 84, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and reorganized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. North's Horse Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Grandour's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was reorganized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 2, 1864, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1864. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863, and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

Remarks:

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 30, 1862. It was disbanded July 24, 1862, by S. O. No 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 26 Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and reorganized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 54, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and organized east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 30, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About March 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 2, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 3d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Cavalry) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exonerated east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1866, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment that remained west of the Mississippi River, was reorganized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and reorganized May 20, 1862. It was disbanded July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hq. U. S. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 8th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment that remained west of the Mississippi River was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post January 11, 1863, and re-organized east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 2, 1865, it became Company F of the 1st Regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granger's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C. about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was disbanded July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1863. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which by the consolidation of Greenboro, N. C., about May 1, 1863. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863, and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry, also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers, was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 2, 1862. It was dismounted July 21, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1863. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and re-ranked east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 2, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Graham's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was shown as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

†The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 5d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 25, 1862, by S. O. No 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 15th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1863. The remnant of the regiment that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 14, 1862, and re-organized May 30, 1862. It was dismounted July 20, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 22, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry, also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers, was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and organized east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 20th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was disbanded July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863, and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64 Hedges Army of the West, dated April 21, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and organized east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C. about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was reorganized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 3d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 30, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 20, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 2, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

It was disbanded July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hd. Q. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1863. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was reorganized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment, Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry, also known as the 3d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers, was organized March 10, 1862, and reorganized May 2, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and remanded east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 16th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granger's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was reorganized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was disbanded July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 54 Hogg's Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

Rec'd at 7 1/2 Aug 13/83

Richmond Va, Aug. 10th 1863.

Sir:

On the 10th inst. I filed in the office of the Sec. of War, an application for authority to take that portion of my Regt. (10th Tex. Cav. dismounted, now in the Trans-Miss. Dept. nearly 200 officers and men) as a basis upon which to recruit a Regt. of Partisan Rangers with a light battery attached for the express purpose of operating against the enemy on the West bank of the Mississippi River. - In answer to this application the Sec. of War, informed me that he cannot make any orders in the premises without first knowing the wishes and action of Lt. Gen. E. Kirby Smith.

To avoid any collision of authority and secure perfect harmony, I would now most respectfully ask authority to take that portion of my Regt. as above stated, and recruit it up to its maximum number subject to the approval of Lt. Gen. Smith, and that Lt. W. M. Horton, my Acting Adjut. (now in this city) and myself be ordered to report to Lt. Gen. Smith.

of Gen. Sherman

Col. D. P. Cook
 Camp Ford, Tex.
 Sept. 30th 1864.

Captain -

I beg leave to call the attention of the Major General commanding the Dist of Texas to the fact that the present stockade camp, used for the purpose of confining the Federal prisoners of war at this place is quite inadequate for said purpose from the fact that the pickets are in most of cases not more than 7 feet high, and are sealed or unsealed. On the night of the 27th inst. my sentinels discovered that a tunnel had been opened some 35 or 40 feet from the outside of the pickets, and that the prisoners taking advantage of the darkness of the night were then in the act of escaping. On being informed of these facts by the officer of the day, I at once proceeded to investigate the matter, and discovered that a tunnel had been dug commencing on the inside of a mud house (as many of their quarters are constructed mostly of mud) and running from 45 to 80 feet to the outside and from 8 to 10 feet in ground, by means of which several prisoners had effected their escape; this occurred between 11 and 12 o'clock at night - the count on the following morning showed 16 absent - in the morning, I dispatched two couriers after noon, who rode seven miles and back by daylight returning with the dogs, which were immediately put up in the traps with a purple coat; the prisoners were scattered in divers directions and removal the task of trailing exceedingly difficult and laborious, still my efforts were rewarded with the re-capture of 12 which were brought in by 10 o'clock at night, the next day gave me 2 more, and 2 are still at large without any immediate prospect of re-capture.

In view of the situation, I would respectfully ask for authority to call on the planters in this immediate neighborhood to furnish negroes valuably if they will, and in case they will not so far wish them, then to impreg them temporarily, also to

With the necessary labor, I can construct a deep ditch inside the Stockade, say 30 feet from the pickets which will prevent tunneling, after which I propose to construct an additional Stockade to contain one or more acres of ground, with pickets 12 feet clear, and a platform near the top of the pickets for sentinels to walk upon, so that they can always see the conduct of prisoners; this new Stockade to be used expressly for the safe keeping of recaptured prisoners and those who are most restless and turbulent.

I would further state that there are at present no suitable Guard Houses at this place to shelter the guard during the coming winter. I have neither labor, nor material to accomplish these objects, and cannot obtain it without the necessary impeding authority.

In Obedience
Yours Respectfully

*This company subsequently became Company I, 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Texas Cavalry). It was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 21, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 21, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 21, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment that remained west of the Mississippi River was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1865 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men were found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment and were organized Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 3d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

Remarks:

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry, also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers, was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 30, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. N. 44 Hedges Army of the West, dated April 24, 1863. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and sent east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Cavalry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Grant's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., on Mar 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

*This company subsequently became Company D, 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 3d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

Remarks:

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 20, 1862, by S. C. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Grant's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was disbanded April 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64. Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and reorganized east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Cavalry) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 16th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granger's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C. about May 1, 1863. The remnant of the regiment that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1864 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 15th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment into five companies, A to E, in 1863, and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

Sir

I have the honor to tender my resignation as Captain of Co. E. 15th Texas Cavalry, on the condition, that I be allowed to enlist as a private in Maj. Genl. Rice's command in Trans. Miss Dept.

The Company to which I belong has ten (10) men and three (3) commissioned officers (two besides myself) in this Dept. The proportion of officers being greater than needed, and I being a Missourian, while the other officers & men are Texans, in knowing that the Co would prefer my removal, in any event which might require it, to that of either the others, I would ask that my resignation be accepted on the above-stated condition.

I am a Minister and desire the above change to enable me to attend more closely to the duties of my profession. I certify that I have no public funds or property in my hands, that there are no charges against me affecting my pay and that I am not indebted to the Confederate States on any account whatsoever.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1864 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 11th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

About May 21, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 3d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was disbanded July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 20, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 19th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1864, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1864. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was disbanded July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 19th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

Sir:

I herewith tender my resignation of the office of 1st Lt. in Company "D", 15th Texas Cavalry, on the conditions that I may be allowed to choose my command in the West. My reasons are these: I live in the West, and in a Frontier county, (Blascoe Co) where the Indians are constantly depredating upon the citizens.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and reorganized May 30, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment that remained west of the Mississippi River, was reorganized into the companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Unmounted Cavalry.

*This company subsequently became Company B. 2d Robison's Regiment Tennessee Infantry.

The 2d Regiment Tennessee Infantry was organized and mustered into the service of the Confederate States May 6, 1861, and was re-organized April 2, 1862. In September, 1864, the 2d, 10th, 15th, 20th, 30th and 37th Regiments Tennessee Infantry were consolidated, but each company of the various organizations was mustered separately and under its original designation during the period covered by this consolidation.

About April 9, 1865, the 2d, 2d, 10th, 15th, 18th, 30th, 30th, 33d, 37th and 45th Regiments and the 23d Battalion Tennessee Infantry were consolidated and formed the 4th Consolidated Regiment Tennessee Infantry, which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., May 1, 1865.

* This company subsequently became Company D 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry. The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 3d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hqs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1863. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1864. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

Remarks:

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was disbanded July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 5th and 15th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 2, 1864, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

Remarks:

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 9th Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was disbanded July 21, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 20, 1863. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 15th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1864, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1864. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the M Regiment-Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 21, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, and April 21, 1863. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 15th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1863. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 26, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was discontinued July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1862, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1862, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1864. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1862 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 3d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64 Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 2, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1865 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 3d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and reorganized May 30, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 16th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1863. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 11, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 21, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 21, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was reorganized into five companies, A to E, in 1863, and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Mounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and reorganized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 94, House of Representatives of the West, dated April 24, 1863. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 3d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 21, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 21, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and re-ranked east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About Mar 26, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C. about Mar 1, 1866. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863, and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 21, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1862, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 15th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1863. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

the command since May 1863. Upon the consolidation of the Regt with the 6th & 10th Texas Inf. he was relieved and went to Texas as a Superintendent, and has done the service for fifteen (15) months.

Capt. Alden, next in rank, has not been with the command since 1st December 1862. He commanded an "Independent Company" in 1863 in the Texas Inf., but has never been dropped from our rolls. He has a company besides the one in the Regt. Capt. J. H. Burnett, next in rank is in the same condition with Capt. Alden, but at an earlier date. I am informed by officers in the Regt that he has returned to Texas to receive pay. I believe them to be true.

Capt. M. [Name] next in rank, has not been with the command since Dec. 1862. — is in Texas.

Capt. Martin next in rank, has not been with the command more than three months at the time of organization, and not at all since January 1863. He is in Texas on no duty.

The above facts I set before officers of the Regiment Although these five Captains rank Capt. Houston, on the roster they have no more practical experience than a private entering the service, while Capt. Martin has been a six year veteran and a great number of skirmishes, in several of which he commanded his regiment. If these officers are ever brought from the "Texas Prison Regt." it will be unwise to put them in command over those who have borne the burden and the heat of the day while the former have been in ease and idleness.
The men of my Regiment complain that so many of their officers are allowed to remain so long

Camp Co 810th Texas Regt

In the Field Oct 6th 1864

General:

Having learned from your letter addressed to Gen. Resanbury (to #323) that Capt. M. D. Kennedy of Co E appears to be the senior Captain of the 10th Regt Texas Cavalry, and that under he is disposed of. The Gen's application in my behalf cannot be complied with,
I beg leave to make the following statement supported by the testimony of the Company ^{Commander} and the Muster rolls of said Company:

About the 20th of October 1862 Capt Kennedy tendered his resignation as Captain of his Company and thereupon based an application for a leave of absence. His resignation having been accepted by Gen. Halmes Comdg.
Texas Mil Dept, a leave of absence for — days granted him, Capt Kennedy returned to his home in Texas and has not since reported for duty to his Regiment or Company; nor has he, so far as is known, claimed to be an officer of the Army since that time.

In accordance with Genl Order No. — Dept Hd Qrs, authorizing the vacancy to be filled when notice of the acceptance of a resignation by Dept Commander, had been received, 1st Lt Wm O Yanties was promoted and assigned to duty as Captain of said Company, in December following.
From that time to the present, Capt Yanties and his Successor Capt. J. H. T. had continued to be mustered and to draw pay as Captains of this Company.

It will thus be seen that for near two years Captain Kennedy has not been with his regiment or company, or claimed to be an officer thereof.

I have therefore to ask, if this statement be satisfactory, that the Department again consider the application for my promotion, and that my rank, if promoted, be not affected by the appearance of Captain Kennedy's name upon the roster.

Very Respectfully

enclosed, in addition to the correspondence made on the same communications from Capt.
D. H. Tyler what accompanied them. I desire respectfully to urge upon the preservation of Capt. W. M. Houston to the Majority of that Regiment, the notes will show that Capt. Gilbert Porter died on 9th July 1862 and that 1st Lt. W. J. Richter died on the 3rd of July 1862, and that Mr. W. Houston was promoted Captain to rank and such from that date. If the five Captains mentioned in communication of Capt. Tyler are

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was disbanded July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1864, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1864. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1864 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 22 Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 16, 1862, and re-organized May 30, 1862. It was dismounted July 21, 1862, by S. O. No 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 11, 1862, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1862, this regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 15th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 8, 1863, it became Company I of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Company I of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry and Company I of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry and which was present at the Battle of Gettysburg, Pa., about May 1, 1863. The remainder of the regiment remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into two companies, A to H, in 1864, and was disbanded at the end of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some of the men served in the 17th Consolidated Texas Cavalry.

Remarks Deserted Nov. 27, 63.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 3d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Grimes's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

It was dismounted July 24, 1862, and sent No 64. Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and reorganized east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Gregory's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C. about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, as remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 21, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 8, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1862 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 3d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was disbanded July 24, 1862, by S. O. No 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 19th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863, and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and reorganized May 30, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 19th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Grubb's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863, and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 4th Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 18, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Graubury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1864. The remnant of the regiment that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No 64 Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Grabbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1865, and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry, also known as the 3d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers, was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 2, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1866, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1866. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 15th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 26, 1862, by S. O. No 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 2, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1863. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about Mar 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1863. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Grant's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C. about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863, and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Reg't Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and reorganized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and transported east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granger's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863, and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 15th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Graybury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863, and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

Remarks

March 10 1862 Capt M. Deane Steward of 15th Reg Texas Cavalry

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and reorganized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 54 Hdqrs. Army of the West dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 2, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was reorganized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 3d Regiment Johnson's Brigade, Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and reorganized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was reorganized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 5th Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 18, 1862, and reorganized May 30, 1862. It was dismounted July 26, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Home Army of the West, dated April 28, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the company of Galton of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about March 1864. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 3d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dimounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 44, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 8th and Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1863. The remnant of the regiment that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

Private Benjamin H. Williams of Company B. Cal.
Sweet's Regiment Texas. Having applied for a certificate of disability upon which to ground an application for furlough; I do certify that I have carefully examined the said B. H. Williams, and find him unable to perform the duties of a soldier because of chronic diarrhoea, the sequence of Typhoid. I further certify that in my opinion said soldier will be unable to resume his duties in a less period than thirty days, and recommend that a furlough for that length of time be granted him.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 15th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granger's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C. about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863, and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

Escaped capture at Ark. Post, Jan. 11, 63.

In Trans Miss. Sept.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 22, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Graybury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Mounted Cavalry.

Remarks:

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1864. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a detachment of the 13th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 10th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 3d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 10th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 10th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 3d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and reorganized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 26, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1864, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1864. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was reorganized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1863, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1863. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863, and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 15th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Grantbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1865 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 28, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1864, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1864. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1864 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was disbanded July 20, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 2, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Cavalry) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 26, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 15th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 2, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Grimes's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, S. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry, also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers, was organized March 10, 1862, and reorganized May 30, 1862. It was discontinued July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged west of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 21, 1862, by S. O. No 94. Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 8, 1864, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and reorganized May 20, 1862. It was discontinued July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 84, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1863. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and renamed east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River was reorganized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

It was disbanded July 24, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.

The 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry (also known as the 2d Regiment Johnson's Brigade Texas Mounted Volunteers) was organized March 10, 1862, and re-organized May 20, 1862. It was dismounted July 21, 1862, by S. O. No. 64, Hdqrs. Army of the West, dated April 24, 1862. Most of the regiment was captured at Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, and exchanged east of the Mississippi River where it served as dismounted cavalry. About May 21, 1862, the part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1862, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Graubury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. About May 24, 1863, this part of the regiment was temporarily consolidated with the 6th and 10th Regiments Texas Infantry and about April 9, 1865, it became Company F of the regiment which was formed by the consolidation of Granbury's Texas Brigade and which was paroled at Greensboro, N. C., about May 1, 1865. The remnant of the regiment, that remained west of the Mississippi River, was re-organized into five companies, A to E, in 1863 and was known as a Detachment of the 15th Regiment Texas Cavalry but some men are found to have served in the 17th Consolidated Regiment Texas Dismounted Cavalry.
